

EDPY 597 Philosophy of Teaching

Hans Smits is an emeritus professor from the University of Calgary. He has taught and wrote in areas of teacher education, curriculum theory, and social studies education. He is particularly interested in exploring the relevance and nature of practical wisdom in the understanding and practice of teaching.